DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Father Murphy, of Spartanburg, chaperoned a party from Ware Shoals to Abbeville yesterday afternoon. Those in his party were Miss McEnroe and Miss Emery and Messrs. J. F. McEnroe, manager of the Ware Shoals Mfg. Co., and Mr. Elliott, all of Ware Shoals. Father Murphy had been in Spartanburg all summer and longed to breathe city air, so he came to Abbeville, stopping in the very heart of city ways—on Greenville Street. After resting a while there, he and his party visited friends elsewhere in the city, took a look at some places of historic interest about the city, had dinner at the Eureka and journeyed back to Ware Shoals by way of Hodges. On the trip over they came through Due West. Which causes us to say that "variety is the spice of life."

AN ICE CREAM PARTY

The Abbeville foot ball team in Abbeville believes in hard work and since its reorganization last week they have put every body else in town to work. The boys have appointed five committees and have asked them to raise one hundred dollars each by the 19th. The ladies have entered into the spirit of the thing and any one who has any money may as well give it up early in the campaign.

On next Wednesday afternoon there will be an ice cream festival on the plaza beginning at six o'clock. There will be all kinds of cream served in saucer and cones by a bevy of pretty girls, punch will be served and all to the strains of lively music played by the Hatch Concert Band. From eight o'clock on there will be dancing on the asphalt. A thoroughly good time is promised the young folks in addition to helping make Abbeville's team the champion of the state.

This entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. G. T. Barnes, Mrs. Foster McLane, Mrs. Foster Barnwell and Mrs. W. P. Greene.

A PORCH PARTY

Miss Julia Mabry gave a lovely party at her home Wednesday afternoon to which she invited twenty-four friends to meet her aunt, Miss Annie Bee, of Edgefield. The tables were spread on the porch and bridge was played.

At the conclusion of the games Miss Susie Mabry and Miss Julia McAllister served a salad course with tea.

FOR VISITORS

In honor of Misses Janie McDill and Mary Caldwell, Miss Margaret Cox entertained at Rook Wednesday afternoon. There were ten tables of players engaging in the games.

BOOK CLUB MEETS.

Mrs. C. C. Gambrell was hostess to the Book club at her home Wednesday afternoon. Besides members there were a dozen invited guests. Refreshments consisted of block cream and punch.

MRS. McKENZIE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. C. M. McKenzie entertained at bridge Thursday morning at her home on Pickens street in honor of Miss Evelyn Johnson. At the conclusion of the games a delicious salad course was served.

A ROSE BUD PARTY

Mrs. W. L. Peebles entertained a pleasant party of young folks Wednesday morning in compliment to her sister, Miss Cam Boren. There were five tables of rook and the games were enjoyed by the pretty rose buds of the city. A salad course was served.

CHARLESTON VISITORS

Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Harper are expected in Abbeville Monday from Charleston and they will spend their vacation with Mrs. J. C. Ellis.

PARTIES FOR VISITORS.

Miss Constance Davenport entertained at a lovely evening party on Tuesday from 8.30 to 11 o'clock in honor of Miss Elizabeth Smith's guests, Miss Mildred Cochran of Abbeville and Miss Helen McLeod of Augusta, also Miss Kathryn Hagood and Miss Ellen Sittor of Easley. About ten couples enjoyed this pleasant affair. Punch and sandwiches were served late in the evening.

Tuesday afternoon at six o'clock Miss Elizabeth Smith entertained at a lovely reception at her home on Emma street. The Smith home was beautifully decorated with roses and potted plants. The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Elizabeth Smith who presented them to the receiving line which was composed of Miss Helen McLeod of Augusta, Miss Mildred Cochran of Abbeville, and Miss Brian Lyles of Spartanburg.

The guests were invited into the dining room by Miss Alexandria Link, where ice tea and sandwiches were served by Misses Helen Drummond, Alice Shanklin and Margaret Smith.—Greer News, in Greenville Piedmont.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY
